

DEATH OF THE KING OF THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—His Majesty Kamehameha the Fifth, King of the Sandwich Islands, died at Honolulu, on the 11th inst. He had been ailing in health for some short time past, but the exact nature of the disease by which he was finally removed from life is not stated. The monarch was childless, and the question of succession to the vacant throne becomes an open one between the Polynesian people and what remains to them of a free constitution, which has been made aristocratically reactionary, under British promptings and for the benefit of English commercial interests. The people of the islands—which have been justly termed, in group, the Ooba of the Pacific—incline already toward self-government under a free Democracy. It remains to be seen what diplomacy the Washington Cabinet will pursue under the circumstances. Kamehameha the Fifth was anti-American in tone and sentiment. As Prince Loo, he traveled in the United States some few years since. When ascending the Connecticut River, on a steamer, the future King sat down to the dinner-table in company with the other passengers. His rank was not generally known. An impetuous attentive waiter, a native of the Green Isle and a Democrat in politics, after observing him a moment, said, unceremoniously to the royal stranger, "Nagurs aren't allowed to sit with white folks at this table." The matter was explained to the Prince, but he never forgave what he resented as a deliberate insult, and poor Pat thus became the innocent cause of offending a fast ally to his hereditary enemy, Britain, by his not being able to recognize a monarch while engaged in executing the honest duty of serving potatoes.

A GIFT OF THE BIBLE AFTER THIRTEEN YEARS' WAITING.—Among the items of news received by the last China and Japan mail is the announcement that Dr. Hepburn, a well known American Japanese scholar, recently received permission to present the Mikado a copy of the Bible in English, with the last edition of the Doctor's Japanese and English dictionary. This Bible Dr. Hepburn took to Japan with him thirteen years ago, and it is one of the costly editions specially prepared by the American Bible Society for presentation to exalted personages. For these thirteen years has Dr. Hepburn been waiting to press his gift upon the ruler of Japan, patiently watching for an auspicious season. That arrived in the early part of November, the presentation taking place through the intervention of Minister De Long. The Mikado testified his appreciation of the gift by acknowledging it in suitable terms in an autograph letter. This satisfactory reception of the book, coupled with another item of news received by this mail, that thirty-five native Japanese, who had been imprisoned for embracing Christianity, have been pardoned and set free, is a good omen that, in the projected revision of treaties with Western powers, there will be introduced large concessions in favor of religious toleration.

Mrs. Fremont is described as having grown stout and gray, and never, in the days of her girlish beauty, was so fascinating as at the present time. Mr. Snapp, of Illinois, is making himself too conspicuous in Congress. A man with such a name as that ought to crawl into a hollow log and stay there.

AVOID CONSUMPTION.—No enemy to the human race is more to be dreaded and is more insidious in its approaches than the too fatal destroyer of health and happiness of myriads—"Consumption in its phthisic form." The duty of all is to guard against its first advances. This may be done by the timely use of Dr. Tull's Expectant.

Boston, February 9, 1870. Dr. Tull—Dear Sir: Will you please inform me at what drugist, in New York, I can get your Expectant, as I can use some of it to advantage, having seen the effect of it on a friend of mine? I am fully satisfied that it has but to be tried to establish its merits. It works like magic. What is your wholesale price, delivered in New York? Let me know where it can be had for the present in New York, and I will communicate further with you at another time. Very truly yours, W. H. BARRON, 86 Summer street.
